

BEAR

ESSENTIAL NEWS FOR KIDS®

READ ISSUE
GUIDES
CONTESTS
TEACHERS
ABOUT US

You are here: Home / Issues / Kid Times Story

KID TIMES

News Stories Written by Kids — for Kids

A special section of Bear Essential News & the Young Reporters Program

KID TIMES IS SPONSORED BY

TUCSON: 323-3030

Webelos Wood Is About Learning

Siobhan Frankiewicz

Butterfield Elementary - Tucson

In April, the Cub Scouts had an activity called the Webelos Wood. Some activities were: how to set up a tent, an obstacle course and learning how to build a chip-a-wha table. Scouts also played capture the flag.

When asked if he likes the Webelos Wood, Austin Larson says, "It's fun because you get to learn about stuff you didn't know."

His friend, Anthony Romero, also liked the Webelos Wood. He says he joined Cub Scouts because his brother was in it and it seemed fun when he went to his brother's meetings.

Greg Johnson, a Cub Scout leader, told me that he likes to see the boys have fun.

My dad, Brian Frankiewicz, joined the Cub Scouts when he was 6 years old because it sounded like fun to him. He planned the Webelos Wood with Frank Youdelman for a wood- badge project.

My dad let me walk across the monkey bridge. It is a bridge made out of tied ropes. It was very cool.

If you missed the Webelos Wood, there's one in October for all the Webelos Scouts in the Old Pueblo District.

For more information, have your leader call Frank at 742-7625.

^top

©2003 - 2005 Kid's View Communications Corp.
Classroom educators are welcome to reproduce any portion of this site for their students.